THE SOUTH PENN OIL COMPANY

Owns the Big Strike-It is Located on the Martin-Miller Farm - The New Well Thoroughly Surprises the Experts-A New District Opened Up in Mouroe County, South of Cochransville-Late News From All Parts of the Southwest Oil Fields.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer. SISTERSVILLE, W. Va., Dec. 5.-Once more Middle Island has demonstrated that underneath its barren soil great riches lie secreted in the form of peels of oil. On the Martin-Aillier farm, the South Penn Oil Company this aftermoon drilled in a smoon pure wild cat that took a nine hundred barrel clip at a short distance in the pay, the greasy commodity spouting over the top of the derrick. The location is to the north of the great Dye-Brooks No. 1 in the Little Mills district. The performance of this monster is a thorough surprise as the territory there has a spotted reputation, while several dusters have been drilled in its immediate vicinity. strated that underneath its barren soil

Hutchinson No. 1 of Ramey & Com Hutchinson No. 1 of Ramey & Company, reported exclusively by the Intelligencer as being in the sand on Wednesday, has struck a pay streak and will have a daily production of at least 100 barrels. Its location is most important, it being in undefined territory, eleven and one-half miles southwest of the productive Cochransville field. Numerous dry holes have been drilled in the territory and the advent of this producer probably brings with it a new section of the southwest fields.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

News of Late Doings in Various Portions of the Great Southwest.

The pipe line prices of credit balance declined yesterday from Wednesday's quotations of $1 40 to $1 38, oil declined yesterday from Wednesday's quotations of $1 40 to $1 33. The Eureka pipe line company's runs in the Sistersville field yesterday were $8,90 barrels.

The market seems heavy, but local oil men do not believe that further declines in credit balance prices are contemplated or expected. The prices of producer's oils in the custody of pipe line investors or speculators certificates and of refined products to consumers are controlled and made by the Standard. Producers and independent oil men are making an effort to sustain competition against the monopoly and establish independent markets. The organization of the Fure oil Company is in that direction.

Roesser & Laing's well on the Holdren farm, at Sheet's Run, is not the producer it was first supposed to be. It has but very little gas, not more than enough to supply three boilers, while the oil is not showing up as previously. The Plaher oil Company's Tull No. 2 is down 800 feet.

Connelly Bros. Gorrell No. 1 is due in the pay sand but nothing had been heard from it up to last evening.

On Middle Island the Martin well of the Oxford Oil Company and M. Keating is a considerable distance in the Big Injun formation and is a failure. The casing is being pulled and the hole abandoned.

The Kanawha Oll Company's old well

The Kanawha Oil Company's old well on the Raper lease, now controlled by the Fisher Oil Company, is being cleaned out and is down 800 feet. It will be the latter company's Raper No. 4.

The Fisher Oil Company's Eaton No. 10, which dropped 200 feet of cashing and shut off a cave is drilling again, after a lengthy delay.

The Philadelphia Oil Company's Hutchinson No. 1 located below Sheet's Run, which has been drilled in several weeks, but never before reported, is making a nice pumping well.

Run, which has been drilled in several weeks, but never before reported, is making a nice pumping well.

Back of the Pisher Oil Company's defined territory in the vicinity of Cochransville, Ramey & Company 'geterday struck the sand in what is practically a wild cat well on the Hutchinson farm and made a good showing for a producer. The well's production is being made a mystery. If the well has come in good a large scope of undefined territory will be opened up. The Carter Oil Company has drilled in a well on the Pfile farm adjoining Ramey's tract and will have a producer good for from twenty-five to fifty barrels per day.

Conneily Bros, Gorrell No, 1 is due in the pay to-day.

Judge No, 1, of the Fisher Oil Company, which has been detained by a crooked hole, is drilling again and will be shortly due in the sand.

The Henry Oil Company's Luther Hissom well above the school lands in Monroe county, is in the sand, but nothing can be learned as to itscharacter. Its location is rather important.

In the Waverly field, Barney Forst is starting two new wells, one on the Butland and one en the Kester place, about a quarter of a mile distant from the big Hammett Spouter.

land and one on the Avenue part of a mile distant from the big Hammett spouter.

The South Penn Oil Company is starting a new well on the McTaggart farm and Hoe Hammett & Company on the Ed Hammett lease.

The Little Venture Company, owners of the Big Jim, has made a location at the mouth of Eroad Run, near St. Mary's, and will start the rig immedi-ately.

Russell & Skinner will further de-velon their territory near Hurning

Russell & Skinner will further develop their territory near Burning Springs, by drilling several new wells. In Cabell county the Eistersville people will speculate for the greasy commodity, the Jenkins farm on Green Bottom to be the place of operation.

Near the center of the J. W. Einsbenger farm in Wetzel county, is located the yeal recently drilled by the South Penn Oil Company. At the time the well came in, it caused great interest among oil men on account of its splendid showing. A scramble for territory was the result, but it was short-lived, for the land owners are pronounced by leasers as being the most difficult personages over they attempted to approach. It cost a small fortune to talk to them while the agreements made received no consideration whatever. Time and time again land owners have failed in this respect and now lessers are becoming diagnated and leaving the territory. The Enslenger, well is decreasing its production rapidly. Its exact location is on luck's flun, near Robinson's Mills.

The Warrely Field.

The West Barclay Oil Company, organized this week by Wheeling people, yesterday gave the contract for putting up the rig and drilling a well on their recently noquired leans in the Waverly field, near Valley Mills, on the J. Barclay farm. Another Wheeling company that has leased the R. Barclay farm in the same neighborhood has also let a contract for their No. 1 well.

THE GLASS INDUSTRY.

Another Effort to be Made to Start the Central Factory—Workmen Will Con-tribute to the Stock.

It is learned on good authority that the members of the Local Union No. 9, Flint Glassworkers, will figure in an other effort to purchase the Central class works in this city from the United States Glass Company, with the view of again starting that plant with union orkmen.

At the last meeting of the union m At the last meeting of the union men-tioned the matter of encouraging the purchase of the Central came up, and, although no definite action was taken, the proposition that a portion of the big surplus of the union be used in sub-scribing to the stock of the local com-pany met with favor and has since been discussed by the workmen in the been discussed by the workmen in the same strain.

The recent effort to secure subscrip-tions to stock in a company to purchase and operate the Central fell somewhat short, but now the workmen are pre-pared to make up the deficiency. It is probable that a conference of the busi-ness men interested and a committee of the glassworkers' union will soon be held.

The Marriage Last Evening of the Popular City Clerk of Wheeling,

The Marriage Last Eventing of the Popular City Clerk of Wheeling.

While City Clerk Dannenberg did surprise some of his friends, those who knew him did not marved greatly when he announced yesterday that he was "going to get married." A charming young lady had more to do with his resolution than all other evidences of happy married life he saw around at the public building. Her name is Miss Elizabeth Stocker, daughter of Mrs. Adam Stocker, of the Eighth ward, and lost evening at the parsonage of St. John's German Independent Protestant church, the Rev. William G. Ulfert efficiating, she changed her name to Mrs. Charles E. Dannenberg. And it is now proper to congratulate both parties, Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom held a reception at the home of Mrs. Dannenberg's mother, at which the intimate friends and relatives of both families were present.

Mr. Dannenberg, before and since friends and relatives of both families were present.

Mr. Dannenberg, before and since his election to the city clerkship, has been a popular favorite, his manners winning for him the friendship of all with whom he came in contact. By way of comment it may not be malapropos to state that since the incoming of the Republican city officials five of the new officials have married—and they are all happy.

officials have married—and they are all happy.

Mr. and Mrs. Dannenberg received many testimonials of the esteem in which they are held, but no presents were more appreciated than the handsome parlor lamp, the gift of the city building employes and city officers, and the grateful remembrance of the employes of the decorating department of the Wheeling Pottery Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Dannenberg will be at their home on South Chapline street, Eighth ward, where they will be glad to welcome their friends.

FIRE AT SARDIS.

Two Stores and Three Dwellings Burn There on Wednesday.

At Sardis, Ohio, on Wednesday morning fire was discovered in the store ing fire was discovered in the store building of George Case. Before it had been extinguished it had damaged the huilding and stock to a considerable extent and also spread to the adjoining building owned by A. H. Lowe. On the same morning a fine destructive fire was that which almost completely destroyed the store room and stock of E. C. Fry, and spreading to his residence adjoining, destroyed that. Fry succeeded in saving his household goods. The limited fire apparatus of the town could not cope with the blaze which next extended to the house owned by George Bauman and occupied by C. K. Lane. The latter saved most of his household goods. The origin of the fires not definitely known. The loss will foot up about $3,000 with very little insurance.

The members of the Opera House band have received their new winter uniforms. The great coat is a very handsome affair of dark cloth with heavily braided button latches. The Jergins of black leather have yellow-colored laces. When the band makes its first winter appearance in this new garb the populace will hardly know them. Manager Fisher will see to it that every man has a fit, as the band does not desire to figure in a bloomer parade.

FOR HUMANITY.

Sisters and Two of His Brothers Have With a Widowell Mother, Weeping at Home-A Petition Now Circulating for sentenced the man to one year in the county fall. That is the judicial record of the case.

Now comes the humane and rymnathetic phase. Since his incirceration two of his brothers and two of his sisters have passed away, gone to that "bourne whence no traveler returns," and owing to his imprisonment was not allowed the poor satisfaction of a last look upon them in their frezen isleep. This would seem to be enough to drive a man to the deepest distraction, but the prisoner, from all accounts bere himself well under his double affliction. The point of this story now comes, that Mr. Rafferty is suffering from an aggravated case of typhold fever. As a matter of course he has all the attention that Sheriff Franchelm is authorized to bestow upon him, but the question arises, could he not get better treatment in some of the hospitals of the city? His term of imprisonment does not expire for six months. The county jail is a poor place for a typhold fever patient. The crime that he was convicted of has been atoned in a moral sense by the restitution of the property, and owing to these statements a petition is now being circulated for his pardon.
